New York, Feb. 15.—There was a rather unusual number of developments of financial importance in the course of the three days' suspension of stock exchange business ending this morning, all of these being to a greater or less extent of a favorable significance. They included an advance, which had been more or less anticipated, in the rate of dividend distribution on National Biscuit stock, an advance likewise in the People's Gas-dividend, and the formal grant of permission to make the long-talked of issue of $30,000,000 collateral trust bonds, based in part upon the coupons of existing junior mortgage bond issues of the road.

In addition there was the influence of a further material reduction in the country's freight car surplus on February 10, as compared with that on January 25, when the last report was taken, while optimistic comment naturally busied itself not a little during the prolonged stock exchange holiday with the very flattering statement of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, published last Thursday, showing as a result of five months' opera-road Company, published last Thursday, showing as a result of five months' operation of the road in the present fiscal year net earnings, after large charges for depreciation, equivalent to a distribution of $\frac{94}{2}$ per cent upon the company's com-of $\frac{9\frac{1}{2}}{2}$ per cent upon the company's common stock.

No Unfavorable Developments.

Moreover, since the close of business on Thursday night there were no unfavorable financial developments of any sort whatever. A somewhat excited opening in market prices was, therefore, commonly

The next most active stock was Washington Railway and Electric preferred, which sold 200 shares at an advance over previous prices, at 90½. Railway preferred has advanced on the present movement from about 83. It has been slowly creeping up for more than a month, and the prediction is freely made among holders of the stock that will in another month be quoted at 100. This optimistic view is based upon the increasing revenues of the company and the outlook for a much broader policy of management under the local financiers who now control the fortunes of the company.

Quotations furnished by W. B. Hibbs & Co., members of the Chicago Board of Trade, Hibbs Building. 725 Fifteenth street northwest.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—The heavy storm raging in this city and throughout the Northwest to-day has impeded telegraph communication, and the bull movement in May wheat ran against a snag. The market received only the support of local bulls, who worked largely in the dark.
